

Backup

Backup is the process of copying data to a storage device for the purpose of restoring in case the original data has been lost or damaged. That allows you to prevent or significantly reduce the possible downtime of your service / system, thereby avoiding the possible costs of correcting the consequences of such downtime.

The following guides will help you with your first backup step by step or adjust an existing:

blocked URL